Add West Coast history and culture to your home, business, and commercial or public building with this stunning line of decorative screens. All screens are designed to last in BC's rugged climate and are also suitable for indoor use.

Coast Salish Decorative Screens

Inspired by the history of the Northwest Coast

Core Landscape Products' new line of Decorative Screens can be easily installed indoors or outdoors. Featuring a stunning range of designs ranging from soothing to powerful, there is a panel suited for any space.

Screens come in 2' x 4' and 4' x 6' sizes. The screens are composed of durable injection molded polypropylene with a wood-like textured finish, designed and tested to last in all climate conditions. All panels come in a rich coffee-coloured finish to compliment the colour pallet of nature, and can be easily painted to fit your landscape design. Installation: Simply nail, pin, hang, or place the screen to add West Coast culture to your living space.

First two screens are 2' x 4' (Standing Bear and Orca Sighting), and next five screens are 4' x 6' (My Salmon, Sockeye Run, Rising Sun, Moonlit Night, and Hummingbird).

The Artist

Noel Brown, Snuneymuxw First Nation

Noel Brown is a member of the Snuneymuxw First Nation. Noel has been carving since 1995 and lives on reserve with his wife and three sons. He was trained in carving by Richard and Matthew Baker from the Squamish First Nation. Noel works in many mediums – wood, silver, gold, and ceramic. He has had the honour of carving many public pieces and is very involved in the Snuneymuxw culture. His passion for the art shows in the incredible pieces he creates.

Bear: Strength and Gentle Power

The Spirit Bear (aka the Kermode Bear) is the official provincial animal of British Columbia, Canada, and is unique to the region. The Kermode Bear is a rare black bear with white colouring, and has caught the interest of the nation, becoming the animal icon for old growth forest conservation.

Bring this strong and powerful spirit into your atmosphere.

Orca Sighting (2' x 4')

Orca: Symbolizes Life and Togetherness

Orca whales, also known as killer whales, are a phenomenal sight. Despite their fearsome name, only captive killer whales are known to be a risk to human life. In fact, we humans have caused these species to be at risk of extinction. Thanks to conservation efforts the Orca is now under protected status, and populations are rising. Honour this beautiful and resilient spirit daily with this decorative screen.

Sun: Symbol of Life, Healing Energy, and Beauty

The beauty and power of the sun breaks through the clouds to bring abundance and comfort to those it shines on. This powerful statement piece evokes strength, courage, and happiness, while calling us to be humbled in the face of such raw power.

Sockeye Run (4' x 6')

Salmon: The Giver of Life

Every year the return of the Salmon heralds a season of richness and abundance. The incredible journey of the salmon, returning to their home stream across thousands of miles travel across the Pacific, is a testament to resiliency and the mysteries of nature. Reacquaint yourself with nature's many gifts with the Sockeye Run Decorative Screen.

CORE: Coast Salish Decorative Screens

My Salmon (Eagle and Bear) (4' x 6')

Bear: Strength and Power Eagle: Brings prayers to the Creator

The Bear and the Eagle are both top predators. Although they rarely clash, when salmon is scarce these two can be seen fighting for food. This scene mirrors the animals daily fight for survival, and the stark reality of diminishing resources. With little food, even the best of friends can turn to foes. Imbed your space with the raw power and unspoken fragility of these two formidable spirits.
